How to Update Your Supporting Evidence for Membership Renewal

When you come to renew your membership/certification with the UK-SBA you will need to ensure all of your supporting evidence is up to date and correct.

You will need to provide supporting evidence that you have completed the required CPDs for your level of certification/membership.

If you are changing certification/member type you will need to evidence your eligibility for your chosen member type.

If you have gained any qualifications and/or completed any training that you cite on your account you will need to upload evidence for this.

Your evidence for safety to practice must also be up to date i.e. for your insurance, disclosure and safeguarding training depending upon the role you currently hold or wish to hold.

This document will guide you through how and where to upload your evidence to your account.

Please make sure you have the relevant supporting evidence saved in electronic format ready to upload to your account when you come to renew. You should have uploaded all evidence to your account before you pay for your renewal.

- Evidence of your Continuing Professional Development (CPD)

- Evidence for Membership

You will need to evidence how you meet all of the criteria for your chosen member type on your account. This means evidence for member type, evidence of insurance for those working or seeking employment, plus disclosure and safeguarding for those working with vulnerable populations. All cited training and qualifications must be evidenced by certificate and/or official transcript. CVs/lists of qualifications cannot be accepted.

○ Practising Membership

Practising members are those who work in the field of behaviour analysis but do not hold any certification. You must detail in the "About Me" section your experience in the field of behaviour analysis.

● Any Cited Qualifications

All cited qualifications must be evidenced on your account. Please now upload your evidence for your qualification/training. Evidence should be your awarded certificate and/or official transcript. Please do not email your evidence to me as it must be held on your account. Only the account holder can upload evidence to their account so I cannot do this for you. Please email me as soon as you have uploaded this evidence.

CVs/lists of qualifications cannot be accepted.

- Evidence for Safe Practice

Anyone practising or seeking employment must demonstrate their commitment to safe practice by uploading evidence that they hold current liability insurance and where a practitioner is working with children or vulnerable adults, they must also evidence their disclosure and that they have completed relevant safeguarding training.

Anyone who ticks the “available for work” option and/or “offering supervision” option MUST hold and evidence all three items for safety to practice. In this case your insurance evidence MUST be the policy that covers you for the services you are offering.

Please note that “offering supervision” refers to offering to supervise those seeking UKBA certification as a UKBA(cert).

For full guidance on CPD please go to UK-SBA Register Requirements and scroll down to the section “Safety to Practice Items”.

- Insurance Evidence

If you are working or seeking work you will need to evidence you are insured for the role you hold/intend to hold. Even if your role is not strictly as a Behaviour Analyst you must still evidence your insurance for the role you are employed to do.

This must be saved to your laptop/pc/tablet.

If you hold independent insurance, you should upload your certificate of insurance.

If you are insured by your employer then you should ask them for their certificate of insurance. Your employer’s HR department (or equivalent) should be able to issue you with this. All employers will hold employers’ liability insurance for their employees.

Evidence should be a clear electronic image of the insurance summary document showing your liability cover and the dates covered. This can be either your independent insurance or insurance under your current employer.

If you are wanting to appear as available for work and/or offering supervision where you will be working under your current employer, then you should provide evidence that you are insured to work by your employer.

If you are wanting to appear as available for work and/or offering supervision where you will be working independent of your employer, you should provide evidence of your current personal insurance to work.

Please make a note of your insurance expiry date as you will need to input this when you submit your evidence and also on your account via your member dashboard.

- Disclosure Evidence

Disclosure evidence is required if you work with children and/or vulnerable adults. This must be saved to your laptop/pc/tablet.

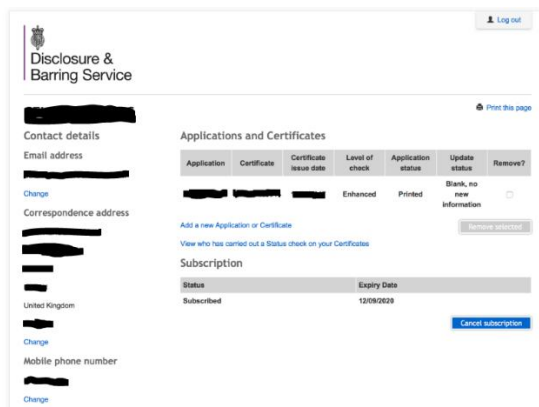

Your disclosure belongs to you so you should have been issued with this if your employer has requested one for you.

An Enhanced Disclosure should always be issued for those working with vulnerable populations but we do understand that for independent practitioners an Enhanced Disclosure cannot always be obtained. If you cannot obtain an enhanced disclosure then we can accept a basic disclosure in such instances.

Evidence should be one of the options below:

- a clear electronic image of your paper disclosure issued within three years of your membership renewal date.
or
- a clear screengrab of your online disclosure summary plus a clear electronic image of the paper disclosure detailed on this electronic summary.
You must upload your renewed screengrab at each registration renewal as this electronic summary holds an expiry date.

A redacted example of the screengrab is given below (please do not redact your screen grab):

Please make a note of your Disclosure issue date as you will need to input this. If you are using your electronic summary, please enter the date as 12 months previous to the expiry date on the summary as your issue date on your profile.

If you are uploading just your paper certificate: your disclosure evidence must have been issued within three years of the start date of your current membership start date.

If you are uploading your electronic summary: you must upload this and also the paper certificate that is referenced on your electronic summary if that paper certificate is not already uploaded to your account.

Your electronic summary only shows if there any additional disclosures since your original certificate was issued. We therefore need to see the original certificate referenced on the summary and then following electronic summaries can be uploaded.

We cannot accept a Summary without the paper certificate cited on the summary.

Third Party Disclosures

We cannot accept a disclosure from a third party - it MUST be the original disclosure certificate. If you do not have your original certificate, please ask your employer to request a new Enhanced Disclosure. If they cannot do this for you then you will need to obtain a Basic Disclosure for yourself.

The Online Update Service

If your Enhanced Disclosure is being renewed you may want to sign up to the online update service. When your new enhanced disclosure is issued you will be able to opt for the online service and that way you can renew this annually yourself so you would be able to keep your enhanced disclosure open rather than having to find an employer to issue a new one every three years. You need to opt into this service within 30 days of the enhanced disclosure being issued and this service costs around £13 per year. Please do check the cost and conditions of this service on the government website. Please click on the following link for full and current information regarding this option:

- Safeguarding Evidence

Safeguarding evidence is required if you work with children and/or vulnerable adults. This must be saved to your laptop/pc/tablet.

Evidence should be a clear electronic image of the certificate you were awarded on completion of your course. If you have not been awarded a certificate then you must request an electronic letter of confirmation from your training organisation. The letter would need to be letter headed by the training body, it must contain your name in full, the date the training was completed, the full title of the training completed, the name of the trainer and the name of the accrediting body. The letter must be signed and dated and must include full contact details for whoever has written the letter of confirmation.

Please make a note of your Safeguarding certificate issue date as you will need to input this. Your evidence must have been issued within three years of the start date of your current membership start date.

If you are not practicing or do not work with vulnerable populations and therefore do not need to hold these documents there are options to declare this on your profile. In such instances you would not be expected to hold or evidence these items.

When you have all relevant information ready, please then proceed as follows:

- Editing your Profile

If your insurance expiry date has changed, or your disclosure issue date has changed, or your safeguarding issue date has changed then you need to ensure this is changed on your searchable profile.

You must manually change these dates as the system will not do this for you.

Log in to your account and on your member dashboard go to the section on the left-hand menu called "Important Links".

On here click on “Edit Profile”

You will be taken to your profile and you should check all fields are up to date and correct. In particular please check the dates and information on your Insurance, Safeguarding and Disclosure fields are still up to date. You should scroll down to the new fields for Insurance, Disclosure and Safeguarding.

Simply tick the statement that applies to you and then input the date requested in the following format: dd-mm-yyyy.

If the statement that explains why you do not hold anyone of these applies to you, you do not need to enter a date.
