

Dr. Jeridith Lord

Dr. Jeridith Lord is honoured to be presenting at the UK-SBA Speakers' Series, especially regarding a topic that instils so much passion in her. In past presentations, Jeridith has discussed different modules of psychoeducation and has presented internationally on topics such as compassionate care, behavioural training for first responders, adherence to ethical guidelines, traumatic impact and mental health collaboration, and advocacy for domestic violence and sexual assault survivors.

Jeridith has developed multiple collegiate courses on mental health and applied behaviour analysis and has been teaching on these topics since 2021.

Outside of academics, Jeridith is also a licensed clinical professional counsellor and specializes in working with survivors of trauma. She earned her doctoral degree from Endicott College.
